Cherry Blossoms at Portland Japanese Garden Jonathan Ley—Portland Japanese Garden

Average hotel night: $136

Average 2017 airfare: $416

Cost to spend 5 days for 2: $1,987

Foodie culture rules in Portland, and brunch is serious business. Grab vegan eats and probiotic-fueled smoothies at Harlow, or opt for Southern fried chicken and waffles for $16 at Screen Door. Alternately, grab breakfast fare and local coffee at the Saturday Market — and stay to shop for locally crafted jewelry, handbags, clothing and more.

Afterward, head over to the Japanese Garden and sit beneath cherry trees and next to koi ponds. Learn more about Japanese traditions at the Culture Village, or grab tea and matcha rolls at the Umami Cafe. Adult tickets to the garden cost $16.95 in summer, $14.50 for seniors. (Winter prices are slightly lower.)
